

Making a Family Emergency Plan

One of the most important tools every individual and family can have to protect themselves in possible emergencies is a family emergency preparedness plan, complete with a list of contacts during an emergency. As you plan ahead about what to do during an emergency, be sure to take into account any members of your family with special needs, specific preparations for children, and what you will do with your pets.

As part of your planning, you should make copies of and safeguard specific personal and financial records. Also, take any actions necessary to prepare your property. Everyone in the family should understand what to do, where to go, and what to take in the event of an emergency.

Stay Informed

- Find out what disasters are most likely to happen in your area.
- Stay informed of any specific instructions or information you may need to know regarding these specific disasters.
- ALL Marines (active duty and Reserve), civil service, and contractor personnel with a NIPR computer account—verify and update official contact information populated in the Marine Corps Enterprise Mass Notification System (eMNS) by information found in the Global Address List (GAL), and self-register all cell phones, home phone, email addresses, etc. in eMNS. Registration of personal information enhances Marine Corps Installations' ability to rapidly provide emergency information and changes to the base's operating status during non-working hours and wherever you are.
- Subscribe to alert services that will send instant texts or emails to let you know about bad weather, road closings, local emergencies, etc.

Make an Evacuation Plan

- As a family, discuss where you will go in the event of an emergency.
- Discuss where your children will go if they are in school or daycare at the time of the emergency, and make sure they understand where you will intend to be.
- Your plan should also address the needs and care of pets, family members with special needs, and safely shutting off utilities.

Make a Family Communications Plan

- Create a comprehensive plan as a family for communicating in the event that you are separated during an emergency.
- Create a sheet or card with all the phone numbers and information every individual in the family may need, and make sure every member of the family has a copy of the communications plan.
- Be aware that in the event of an emergency, phone lines and cell phone towers may be overloaded or out. You can try using text messaging if normal communication options are not available. It would be good to have a contingency plan for reaching each other.
- Ensure every member of your family has a cell phone, coins, or a prepaid phone card in order to connect with your emergency contact during emergencies.
- Establish an out-of-state, in-case-of-emergency (ICE) name and number that everyone in your family has a copy of.
- Save the ICE information in everyone's cellular phone.
- File a copy of emergency contact information with the Command and/or Family Readiness Officer. Place this form in a sealed envelope with your signature across the seal. This will be opened only in case of emergency.

Family Emergency Plan

Practice Your Plan

- Set up practice evacuations or shelter-in-place drills at least twice a year for your family to ensure everyone knows what to do and where to go in the event of an emergency.
- Update your plan according to any issues that arise.
- Keep your emergency kit up to date, replacing water and perishables periodically. Make sure everyone knows where it is and to take it when sheltering or evacuating.
- Check your smoke alarms regularly.

Build an Emergency Supply Kit

- To fully prepare your family for an emergency, create one or more emergency kits that include enough supplies for at least three days.
- These kits will enable you and your family to respond to an emergency more quickly.
- It is advisable to keep a small amount of cash or traveler's checks at home in your kit or in a safe place where you can quickly access them in case of evacuation. ATMs and credit cards may not work during a disaster.
